Barnes bullets have historically had the reputation of offering quick, clean and humane kills. Now they are taking their highly regarded bullets to the next level leading them in ammunition.

Like its Triple-Shock cousin, the Tipped Triple-Shock bullet delivers the same "three strikes you're out" rule. Once as it strikes game, two as the bullet begins to open and a third impact when the cavity fully expands to deliver extra shock with maximum transferred energy. The added polymer tip creates a faster expansion rate as well as better long range ballistics. Ideal for medium to large-sized game.

VOR-TX ammunition is manufactured to precise tolerances to ensure excellent accuracy and consistent velocities. This ammunition is new production, non-corrosive, in boxer-primed, reloadable brass cases.

Just make sure that it is in fact a 338 win mag and NOT a 338 Ruger compact magnum (rcm)

I'm just getting back from a successful Nilgai hunt in South Texas. I was shooting this load out of my Mauser M12 and it performed flawlessly. I had complete pass through from a broadside shot on my bull. My buddy used my rifle on his bull as well. Both shots were between 100-120 yards. Two shots, two bulls down then never took a step. We stumbled upon a large wild hog not long after I took my bull. Again, one shot and down like it was struck by lightning. Some of the best ammo you can get for a 338!!!! I am a Barnes customer for life.

Great round

I recently returned from a successful Alaska hunt where I harvested both a moose and caribou with this round. I was shooting a Savage 116 and was getting .45 inch groups at 100 yards with the Barnes TTSX. I harvested the moose at 465 yards and never recovered a bullet. The bull was dead on his feet after the first round blew threw his heart however, I didn't want to take a chance of loosing him in the willows/water so I followed up with a shot that shattered both shoulders. The caribou was harvested at 150 yards and again the Barnes TTSX completely hammered the big bull. The pass threw took out his heart and shoulder. The bullet performance far exceeded my expectations as far as consistent accuracy box after box and performance one game.

I used this round in Africa. My Kimber is choosy but shoots this load in 3/4 inch groups at 100 yards. I took zebra, kudu, blue wildebeest, two gemsbuck, red hartebeest, and a warthog. shots ranged form 50 to 350 yards. All were one shot kills. My PH likes this bullet.

Excellent ammo

Consistent performance. Great bullet expansion. Hit a bull elk with this round and he will go three feet...straight down.
